

Solar Attic Fan Warranty and Returns Policy

All of our Remington Solar attic fans are warranted for life. This warranty is for parts only, not labor. The life-time warranty applies to mechanical parts that fail due to manufacturing defects such as motors, thermostats, solar panel, and housing. Normal environmental factors that contribute to wear and tear on your solar attic fan, such as continual salt-water exposure, hail, excessive wind is not covered. You must register your products you have purchased using our Registration Link on our website within 30 days from purchase. The warranty for our solar attic fans is also non-transferable. You must be the original purchaser or home owner. You may return fans in an un-opened box or in new resale condition. Solar attic fans are subject to a 15% restocking fee. All returns requesting full purchase price need to be in new resellable condition. Products purchased may be returned within a 30-day period.
